

Departmentalization Update

Thanks to the parents and teachers who were able to attend the meetings on Thursday, April 24th and last night's Home and School Assn. As the process proceeds, feedback is welcomed and encouraged. All feedback is important and will help finalize the plans for change. Anyone having any questions or concerns is especially encouraged to discuss them with me, and I will then share them with the faculty, staff, Fr. Jim, and Ministry of Ed.

The proposed plan is on our school's website, Fr. Jim is available for discussion, teachers encourage dialogue, and Ministry of Ed welcomes your thoughts. Fr. Jim and I have listened, received recommendations, and plan to make a decision soon. In the meantime, the lines of communication continue to be very open.

I appreciate the constructive feedback that has been offered to faculty, staff, Ministry of Ed, Fr. Jim, and me. It has been very instrumental to the positive mission of the school. Our school community is about spreading the Good News of Jesus and this process is another way of shining God's light on our children, faculty, staff, and parents. In the next few days, I will update you about the proposal and inform you of the decision made by Fr. Jim and me.
